Come follow me, says the Lord, and I will make you fishers of people.

In today's Gospel Simon Peter becomes a follower of Jesus. He calls Jesus "Lord"—the title given to Jesus after his Resurrection. Two of Simon's partners are also named as witnesses: Zebedee's sons, James and John. Yet Jesus' words are addressed only to Simon. Jesus gives Simon a new job, telling him that he will become a different kind of fisherman. No longer will he catch fish; instead he will catch people. In these words, we hear the beginning of the leadership role that Peter will have within the community of disciples. His task will be to bring others to Jesus. We continue to speak of Peter's leadership and influence in the Church today when we call the pope the "successor of Peter." We participate in the mission of the Church when we bring people to Christ through the example and positive influence of faith and action in our lives La vita del cristiano è vocazione per la missione. Dio vuole salvare gli uomini servendosi di altri uomini che collaborino con la sua volontà. Ogni vocazione è, allo stesso tempo, missione, servizio per il regno di Dio e coinvolge tutti i cristiani e quindi anche noi. Non si è cristiani solo perché si fa qualche opera buona o perché si dice qualche preghiera. Si è cristiani perché si entra nel progetto di salvezza del Signore, per portare la luce della fede nel mondo, per chiamare altri uomini e donne a mettersi al servizio del regno di Dio. Ogni cristiano è chiamato e mandato: come gli apostoli, per diventare pescatore di uomini cioè chiamati ad essere portatori del messaggio di Cristo nel mondo con la propria vita. Questa è una missione non sempre facile o umanamente fruttuosa, ma che si deve compiere, basandosi sulla "Parola del Signore".
